HTAY

Htay is a client of Whole Planet Foundation’s Myanmar partner, BRAC’s new Natogyi branch, which just started disbursing funds in January 2017 with capital from Whole Planet Foundation. She used to work as a day laborer, weaving baskets. However, with her first microcredit loan, she invested 200,000 Myanmar Kyat (≈$148) to buy raw materials from Mandalay to start her own business. Typically, she can weave five plastic market bags a day and then sell them in the local market for 2,000 MMK/$1.50 (small ones), 2,500 MMK/$1.85 (medium) and 3,500 MMK/$2.60 (large).

THANK YOU TO 2019’S TOP DONOR PARTNERS

Our Mission

We alleviate global poverty by funding microcredit in communities that supply Whole Foods Market stores with products. Our focus is on women in the developing world, where a small loan can help a very poor entrepreneur build a home-based business so she can create a better life for her family.

Small and Mighty

Microcredit loans are small—the average first loan is $179—and they do not require formal collateral or a formal contract. Small loans provide microentrepreneurs the opportunity to create or expand home-based businesses that will generate income for their families. When these funds are repaid, they remain in the borrower’s community to generate additional loans.

Celebrating Your Generosity

Whole Foods Market covers all operating costs for Whole Planet Foundation. When you donate to Whole Planet Foundation, 100% of your contribution goes directly to microlending programs dedicated to alleviating poverty worldwide.

Thank you.
